RE: Laborers Southern California Apprenticeship Program

Dear Mr. Cvitan,

This letter is to inform you that effective with projects bid on or after June 1, 2012, I am revoking your previous exemption to apprentice to journeyman hours ratio in Labor Code Section 1777.5 which was effective February 23, 2011, as it is now superseded by the exemption I approved May 7, 2012 (attached).

The current exemption is applicable only to the list of approved contractors which you have provided to me. The Program is to notify the Administrator of Apprenticeship immediately of any changes to the approved list. This exemption will remain in effect until revoked by the Program or the Administrator of Apprenticeship.

Sincerely,

Dear Mr. Cvitan:

Enclosed is your original of the revised Ratio Exemption for the Southern California Laborers JAC, to become effective June 1, 2012 and available to eligible participating contractors approved by your JAC.

Because the exemption granted is limited to a relatively small number of employers, may I suggest that rather than posting the exemption on DAS website, that we verify the grant of exemption to eligible contractors approved by your committee by providing each participating employer with an executed copy of the attached form, which they could provide to any compliance organization if questions arose.

I look forward to receiving your list of qualified contractors to be granted an exemption to the hourly ratio.

Sincerely,

Apprenticeship Ratio Exemptions

Exemption definition:

In June 2012, the Division of Apprenticeship Standards granted the Southern California Laborers Apprenticeship Program an exemption from the typical apprentice ratio (1 apprentice to the first 5 journeypersons). Under the exemption, the employer is only required to have an apprentice on days where there are more than 3 laborer journeypersons on the jobsite. The ratio exemption was designed to help smaller companies with a small workforce and/or companies with small-size projects.

How to request an exemption:

This exemption was made available to contractors signatory to a Master Labor Agreement only. Signatory contractors may contact the Laborers Apprenticeship Program for a request form and an exemption intended use form. Both forms are completed and returned to our office. All submittals are subject to review and approval by the Laborers Joint Apprenticeship Committee, which meet quarterly, last meeting date was 07/10/14. All contractors are notified in writing of the JAC's decision.

Exemption details and updates:

Apprenticeship Ratio Exemptions expire one year from the date granted. In 2013, exemptions were automatically renewed, unless specified otherwise in writing by the contractor. Most recently and prior to automatic renewal, the Joint Apprenticeship Committee (JAC) has asked contractors to submit additional information regarding their intended use of the exemption (exemption intended use form). As standard practice, the JAC reviews the information submitted by contractors and makes a decision based on the information provided by the contractor.

Expired Exemptions

1777.5 (k) Apprenticeship Ratio Exemption

The Laborers Southern California Apprenticeship Program (Program) hereby grants:

to its "participating contractors," who have three or less laborer journeymen on the public works project. Participating contractors are those bound to a Laborers Agreement or otherwise bound to the Program's Apprenticeship Standards on all public works projects.

An exemption to the 5 to 1 hourly ratio per Labor Code Section 1777.5(k)(4), as demonstrated by the following: the specific task to which the apprentice would be assigned is of a nature that training cannot be provided by a laborer journeyman. There are numerous employers of construction who, because of the size of their operation or because of the type of work that is being done are only able to use one to three laborer journeymen. For example, where an electrical contractor hires a laborer journeyman to demolish sidewalks when working on street lights or traffic signals, such a journeyman would not be able to also train an apprentice on that job. Because the job is small or because of the nature of work being done on the job, the laborer journeyman would not be able to train apprentices in the use of new equipment, materials, and processes or supervise apprentices in accordance with the Program's Apprenticeship Standards.

The above referenced "participating contractor" is granted to use the following minimum ratio: no apprentices on the job where there are three laborer journeymen or less on a public works project.

Effective February 23, 2011, and will remain in effect until revoked by the Program or the Administrator of Apprenticeship.

RE: Laborers Southern California Apprenticeship Program

Dear Ms. Chandna,

This letter is to inform you that I am revoking your exemption to apprentice to journeyman hours ratio in Labor Code Section 1777.5 which was approved May 8, 2009 (attached). Your exemption will be revoked effective with projects with a bid date on or after March 3, 2011. I am taking this step because of the amount of time that has passed since the exemption was granted. I believe it is appropriate for the program to reevaluate its request in light of current conditions and training needs. There has also been some confusion concerning the scope of the exemption on public works projects.

If after considering the matter and you wish to reapply for an exemption, please contact me as soon as possible.

Please notify your contractors of this change.

Yours truly

Re: Laborers Southern California Apprenticeship Program

Dear Ms. Chandna:

Your request on behalf of the Laborers Southern California Apprenticeship Program (Program) for an exemption from the one hour of apprentice employment for each five hours of journey level labor performed on Public Works projects, relative to Labor Code Section 1777.5, has been reviewed by the Division. The Program did a review and has determined that the hourly apprenticeship ratio is not feasible for the training of their apprentices.

The Program's request for an exemption is based on the following:

There are dozens of employers of construction craft laborers who, because of the size of their operations, are able to utilize one or two laborers. An example of this type of employer is an electrical contractor who uses a laborer to demolish sidewalks when working on streetlights or traffic signals. Requiring such an employer to meet the ratio of hours would cause it to violate the JAC Standards, which state:

- 1) Apprentices work under the supervision of qualified journeymen;
- 2) Apprentices are trained in the use of new equipment, materials and processes as they come into the craft.

You state the fact that strict adherence to the hourly ratio requirement precludes the use of registered apprentices by these small contractors, claiming that the 1-5 hour ratio can create situations where apprentices will not be able to be properly trained or supervised on the job.

Upon request, Labor Code Section 1777.5 authorizes the Division of Apprenticeship Standards (DAS) to order a minimum ratio of not less than one apprentice for four journeymen where the hourly ratio is not feasible for a particular occupation.

Therefore, based on the authority vested in the DAS by Labor Code Section 1777.5, the Southern California Laborers Joint Apprenticeship Training Committee is granted an exemption from the one to five hourly apprentice ratio on Public Works projects and is ordered to utilize a minimum ratio of not less than one apprentice for four journeyman in the construction craft laborer classification. This exemption will remain in effect until revoked.

Sincerely,
