

WATER.
REST.
SHADE.

The work can't get done without them.

SAVE THE DATE!

Heat Illness Prevention Network Telephone Conference Call Wednesday, June 5 at 11 a.m. 888-790-3354, participants' passcode: DIRHIP

- WHO: Christine Baker, Director, Department of Industrial Relations
Ellen Widess, Chief, Cal/OSHA
- WHAT: Telephone conference call to members of the Heat Illness Prevention Network
- WHEN: Wednesday, June 5, 2013 at 11 a.m.
- WHERE: From DIR headquarters in Oakland
- WHY: To update Heat Illness Prevention Network members on topics relating to the Heat Illness Prevention Standard
- AGENDA:
- Review of heat illness prevention standard and requirements
  - Cal/OSHA Consultation: overview of services for employers
  - Q & A
- HOW:
- Dial: 888-790-3354, participants' passcode: DIRHIP

E-mail your questions/comments to heat@dir.ca.gov.

The Heat Illness Prevention Network (The HIP Network)

The HIP Network is a voluntary public/private partnership established to increase both employers' and employees' awareness of the hazard of heat illness and the importance of heat illness prevention measures to prevent fatalities and serious illnesses in California workplaces. HIP Network members work together to help prevent heat illness in workplaces throughout California in partnership with the Division of Occupational Safety and Health (Cal/OSHA) by providing timely information to employers and employees.

Members of the Heat Illness Prevention Network (HIP Network) join together with other private organizations and Cal/OSHA to put vital information in the hands of California's employees to help prevent heat illness.