RE: Application for Approval of Labor Compliance Program
LCP ID No. 2009.00628

Dear Mr. Plakk:

In accordance with the provisions of Title 8, California Code of Regulations, sections 16425, the application for approval of Plumas County Development Commission & Housing Authority's labor compliance program is denied. This action is based on the program's failure to establish its ability and capacity to operate an effective labor compliance program in accordance with applicable legal requirements. In particular, the program's contact person appears to be unfamiliar with the regulations that govern labor compliance programs, and the program's manual is an HUD guidebook for participants in the Community Development Block Grant Program rather than an outline of a labor compliance program's responsibilities and procedures. The contract person was provided with additional time and guidance on how to submit a proper application, but failed to submit any additional information.

Please note that your agency can contract with an approved third party labor compliance program in order to comply with any state statute that currently requires a local agency to have or contract for a labor compliance program as a condition for using state bond funding or design-build contracting authority. Please also note that within the next several months; most state LCP requirements will be replaced by a new system for fee-based monitoring and enforcement by the Division of Labor Standards Enforcement.

If you have any questions about this determination, please contact me at 415/703-5063.

Sincerely,

Nance S. Steffen, Special Assistant to the Director of Industrial Relations
