Cal/OSHA Reminder to Employers: Post Annual Work-Related Injury and Illness Summaries

Oakland—Cal/OSHA is reminding employers in California with more than 10 employees to post their 2016 annual summaries of work-related injuries and illnesses from February 1 through April 30.

“This important posting requirement increases awareness of health and safety hazards in the workplace and helps employers and employees understand how to reduce risks,” said Cal/OSHA Chief Juliann Sum.

Employers’ requirements to record occupational fatalities, injuries, and illnesses are in the California Code of Regulations, Title 8, Sections 14300 through 14300.48. Section 14300.32 describes the annual posting requirement. Section 14300.2 lists exempted industries.

Instructions and form templates can be downloaded for free on Cal/OSHA’s Record Keeping Overview. The overview includes the summary template, Form 300A, which is the required workplace posting that must be placed in a visible, easily accessible location at each worksite. Current and former employees, including employee representatives, have the right to review the summary in its entirety.

Employers must prepare and maintain records of work-related injuries and illnesses. Even if none occurred, employers are still required to complete and post Form 300A.
