Recovery

Recession?

- Pandemic-driven unemployment was historic and uneven, hitting low paid workers the hardest.
- Economic recovery is showing industry sector differences.
- Effects of inflation controls are slowing growth in the number of jobs and wages.
- Is a recession likely?

2. Claim Frequency

Long-Term Pattern

- Long-term rate of decline is moderating.

Pandemic Impact

- Sharp drop in non-COVID Claims in 2020 followed by bounce back in 2021

Cumulative Trauma

- Sharp rise in CT claims in industries hit hard by pandemic in 2020

Telecommuting

- Low frequency of claims in telecommuting class (preliminary)

3. Medical Inflation

Long-Term Pattern

Medical Based Fee Schedules

Medical Utilization

Long COVID

- With reforms, current average medical cost at 2001 level
- Medicare fee levels starting to rise
- Medical cost levels driven by utilization shifts not costs per service
- Long COVID remains a concern

4. Frictional Costs

Impact of Reform

High Compared to Other States

Drivers

- Frictional costs did not drop as quickly as losses following reform
- Frictional costs in California are higher than in other states.
- Key drivers of the difference are longer claim duration, greater litigation in the LA Basin, higher proportions of permanent disability and CT claims.
