Commissioner Hussey asked for a status report on Automatic Order # 8 Inland/Desert Non-Union Unilateral Multiemployer Apprenticeship Industrial Technical Learning Center (“In Tech”), at the last CAC meeting.

Ken Lau stated that he was aware that the automatic order was questioned at the last meeting. He stated that an appeal was not filed to challenge this automatic order. He stated that after 30 days the order was reinstated.

Commissioner Buckhorn stated that the order was never approved at the last quarterly meeting for this program.

DAS Chief Rood stated that the statute 3075(a) an apprenticeship program may be administered by a joint apprenticeship committee, unilateral management or labor apprenticeship committee, or an individual employer. Programs may be approved by the Chief in any trade in the state or in a city or trade area, whenever the apprentice training needs justify the establishment.

The question was asked of the Chair to explain how these automatic orders of the council goes before the council and who approved these programs.

Ken Lau stated that they were correct there is no limitation on the building and construction trades although California Labor Code Section 3075 the needs test only applies to building and construction trades. Effectively sending out notice to the non- building trade programs would not change the result. The need of the non-building trade programs are determined under the discretion of the Chief.

A commissioner stated that if there was any question or concern by an existing program regarding notification they have 30 days to appeal this action.

Lucy Wang stated that the council does not have the authority to approve or deny programs. She stated that programs go to the Chief of DAS for approval. She stated only if there is an appeal of the program does it go before the council. She states that it seems to be some confusion on the phrasing of what is an “automatic order of the council”. Lucy stated that she was going to go back and research as to why we have automatic orders placed on the agenda and send a memo to the council to advise.

Commissioner Hussey asked when the 30 day appeal process begins.

Comments were taken by the apprenticeship community. The following was read:

§212.2. Eligibility and Procedure for DAS Approval of an Apprenticeship Program.

(k) The Chief's decision approving or disapproving a proposed program shall be final and become an Order of the Council if no appeal is filed within 30 days following service of the decision on the parties. The appeal may be filed by the sponsor or by any union or existing program which was authorized to and did submit comments under this section;

Notification process was discussed and comments were received from the public.

A motion and a second were made for Automatic Orders of the Council to be an agenda item at the next Rules and Regulations committee meeting along with any memos that are received from council regarding this issue. All were in favor. The motion carried.

Commissioner Jim Hussy stated that he had met with Chief Diane Ravnik last year to discuss numerous issues that caused him to have concerns. Commissioner Hussy stated the last year he formed a committee to address those concerns, called the “Ad-Hoc Committee to review challenges facing apprenticeship administration.” He stated that he will be reaching out to individuals in the apprenticeship community to participate on this committee to review and discuss items of concern. Commissioner Hussy stated that the committee did not meet last year due to the retirement of Chief Ravnik. He stated now that Acting Chief Eric Rood has filled that position the committee was able to meet this week and he believes that the meeting was very productive. Some of the issues that they addressed was the approval process for automatic orders, Minimum qualifications process, Notification issues with programs and Non-traditional apprenticeship programs. He stated that he hopes that this committee will continue to meet.

It was noted that this information was presented for the automatic orders.

Commissioner Anderson stated that her concern was that these programs are listed on the agenda as automatic orders of the council which they are the council not the Chief of DAS. She stated that if we are not going to vote on these items and the final approval of these programs comes from the Chief of DAS that we should not have these on our agenda as an order of the council and listed under the chief report.

Commissioner Anderson questioned the significance that the automatic Order # 8 Inland/Desert Non-Union Unilateral Multiemployer Apprenticeship Industrial Technical Learning Center (“In Tech”), was not approved at the last CAC meeting. She stated that it seems that this program was an automatic order of the council and needs to come back before the council and be approved before the 30 day appeal period begins.

Commissioner Buckhorn stated that he agrees and that he hopes that once legal counsel writes a memo or provides an opinion. We will have some clarity on what our role is on an automatic order of the council and hopefully we have a better idea of how to proceed. Commissioner Buckhorn stated that he will assign this item to Commissioner Hodess and the Rules and Regulations Committee in July.

F. Chief’s Report – DAS Acting Chief Eric Rood

A motion and a second were made to adopt the revisions of the CAC Regulations concerning Public Works enforcement with the inclusion of the amendments that were presented and discussed at the July 2017 rules and regulations committee meeting and also approved at yesterday’s rules and regulations committee meeting.

Questions, comments and concerns were taken by the apprenticeship community. One concern was DLSE ability to enforce this and potential challenges. One of which is if OAL will accept the proposal. The question was if there were additional time limits or if this had to go before public comment.

Joanna Hsu, Assistant Chief Counsel for DLSE-Labor Commissioners office spoke regarding this issue and stated that DLSE needs these regulations to be approved so they can go into effect immediately and stated that the DLSE proposed regulations would have the best chance for approval without any push back from OAL.

It was stated that these regulations have not been approved and updated in the last two years.

Jack Buckhorn stated that this will go to the review process and to hearing through OAL but it is not effecting enforcement at this time or during the process.

Numerous comments were taken from the apprenticeship community.
