

WORKER'S RIGHTS PSA

- Government labor officials are visiting work sites in your area.
- If they show up at your job site, please help them by answering their questions.
- They are there to protect your rights as workers and help you learn about your rights.
- Labor officials are also there to educate your employer on California labor laws and ensure they comply with state and federal wage, hour and licensing requirements, safety regulations and tax laws.
- Please cooperate with them and learn more about your rights.
- This has been a message from the California State Labor Commissioner.
