GENERAL INFORMATION AND INSTRUCTIONS FOR COMPLETING APPLICATION FOR SHELTERED WORKSHOP LICENSE (DLSE 117(6/19))

Or

APPLICATION FOR LICENSE – SPECIAL MINIMUM WAGE FOR DISABLED WORKER (DLSE 106 (6/19))

General Information:

Sheltered workshop licenses are issued by the Division of Labor Standards Enforcement (the “Division”) to programs operated by non-profit organizations pursuant to Section 6 of the Industrial Welfare Commission (IWC) Wage Orders and Labor Code section 1191.5, which Code section provides:

Notwithstanding the provisions of Section 1191, the commission may issue a special license to a nonprofit organization such as a sheltered workshop or rehabilitation facility to permit the employment of employees who have been determined by the commission to meet the requirements in Section 1191 without requiring individual licenses of such employees. The commission shall fix a special minimum wage for such employees. The special license for the nonprofit corporation shall be renewed on a yearly basis, or more frequently as determined by the commission.

A license authorizing payment of a special minimum wage to a disabled worker is issued by the Division jointly to for-profit business establishments and disabled individuals pursuant to Section 6 of the Industrial Welfare Commission (IWC) Wage Orders and Labor Code section 1191, which Code section provides:

For any occupation in which a minimum wage has been established, the commission may issue to an employee who is mentally or physically handicapped, or both, a special license authorizing the employment of the licensee for a period not to exceed one year from date of issue, at a wage less than the legal minimum wage. The commission shall fix a special minimum wage for the licensee. Such license may be renewed on a yearly basis.

For purposes of determining suitability for licensing, as well as standards for maintaining licensing status, the Division has, to the extent possible, adopted the criteria for certification for licensing and operation applied by the United States Department of Labor (DOL) for a special minimum wage certificate under section 14(c) of the Fair Labor Standards Act (FLSA), including regulations at 29 CFR, Chapter V, Part 525. For your reference, contact information and pertinent resource website links, are located at the end of this document.

When conducting its investigation to determine whether a license will be issued, the Division will take into consideration evidence of compliance with certification requirements and evidence of good standing of certification from the DOL. If you are required to be certified by DOL, your certification with this agency must be current and in good standing in order to be considered for licensing by the Division. However, the Division reserves the right to deny or revoke a license based upon its own investigation. Certification in good standing with the DOL, in and of itself will not guarantee the granting of a license by the Division. The Division may inspect the place of business of any organization and may request at any time additional documentation it deems necessary to conduct its investigation and make its determination.

The special minimum wage paid to disabled workers must be commensurate with the productivity of the disabled worker as compared to the wage and productivity of experienced workers who do not have disabilities performing essentially the same type, quality, and quantity of work in the vicinity where the worker with a disability is employed. Your license, if one is issued, will specify the duration of the license and the minimum wage that must be paid to clients employed in each program.

Employers who employ workers with disabilities are subject to the same IWC Order, Labor Code, and FLSA rules of coverage, employment relationship, exemptions, child labor restrictions, and principles regarding such things as hours worked and record keeping as those who employ workers who do not have disabilities. The issuance of a license authorizing payment of wages at less than the minimum wage does not constitute a statement of compliance to the employer by the Division of Labor Standards Enforcement nor does it convey a good faith defense to the employer should violations of any IWC Orders, Labor Code and FLSA occur. The license will be issued upon the terms and conditions listed below.
