

Berg, Eric@DIR

From: Leopoldo Lopez <leopoldolopez@mail.com>
Sent: Thursday, March 01, 2018 6:57 AM
To: DIR RS

The new definition of "indoors" would exclude the vast majority of warehouses and many other indoor workplaces that have a single window or door. This is a bad idea and it makes the new rule very weak. Why even bother having a separate indoor rule? At the very least, these indoor workplaces shouldn't be allowed to be 5 degrees hotter than the outside. It should be cooler in these indoor places than the outside for them to count as outdoors.